NoPayClassifieds.com Adds Free Yellow Page Listing Service For Promoting Your Local Business - Covering 50 Countries!

Leavenworth, Kansas - September 8, 2008 - NoPayClassifieds.com - a provider of an international free classified ad, want ad, and local business directory online newspaper, announced today that it is officially releasing its free Yellow Page listing service.

Today's announcement and release of the Yellow Page offering follows the live testing of the technological infrastructure to ensure smooth performance of the various aspects of NoPayClassifieds.com. As part of the evaluation, the company has verified operational and data transfer links with suppliers and corporations requesting to list the name, address and telephone number of all their locations.

"No Pay Classifieds is excited to see our core business concept of an online classifieds, designed to function and navigate the same as the local classifieds within the newspaper, offering free listings within 480 categories, that are divided into 24 sections, serving 50 global markets, reach this milestone," said John Lambros, President and Founder.

In addition, "I'm very pleased to announce the successfully completed partnerships and interfacing of classifieds and business directory listings from a collection of websites. Our new website offers over 10 million ads from the USA, Canada and the UK, as we continue to expand our network," said John Lambros, President.

Established in August, 2007, No Pay Classifieds was founded to provide 50 countries with a free neighborhood-driven "self-serve" hybrid online newspaper that combines classifieds, local business directory and yellow pages, with more than one (1) million different zip code and postal code editions, within one website.
